- h. Recusals in the Victoria Division.

7. All Judges

- a. On motion of a party in interest or acting sua sponte, a judge may transfer a case, an adversary proceeding, or a contested matter to another judge in this district. Except as provided in the specific work assignments above, any recusals will be randomly assigned to another judge within the division, or if the division is a single-judge division, to another judge within the district. When a judge recuses from hearing a Chapter 13 Houston case, the Clerk will confine the random reassignment process to the remaining judges to whom the case trustee is assigned.
- b. Applications for temporary restraining orders, preliminary injunctions, and similar emergency matters will be considered by the judge to whom the bankruptcy case is assigned. If that judge is not available and the emergency requires prompt action, the matter may be considered by any available bankruptcy judge.
- c. These arrangements do not deprive a bankruptcy judge of jurisdiction over any case, proceeding, or matter, but they are made to expedite the disposition of cases. A bankruptcy judge may try cases and handle other matters for another bankruptcy judge by agreement of the respective judges.

March 3, 2016.
