1. The Nuts and Bolts of Federal Firearms Law

Leigh Skipper, AFD, Eastern District of Pennsylvania

This presentation will cover the most common legal issues arising during both the guilt-innocence phase and the sentencing phase of federal firearms cases, with particular emphasis on prosecutions under 18 U.S.C. §922(g) (1) (the felon in possession statute) and the corresponding sentencing guideline, USSC §2K2.1. Common trial defenses and sentencing enhancements (including the statutory enhancement for armed career criminals) will be reviewed.

2. The Lazy Susan: Federal Rules of Evidence 404 and 405

Omodare Jupiter, AFD, Southern District of Mississippi

This session reviews the basics of Rule 404(b), but wait: what could be more fun than turning the tables on the prosecutor?

3. Computer Forensics

Rick Lavaty, Computer Services Administrator, District of Arizona

All is not as it seems when it comes to computers. Is the picture on the screen really there? And how and when did it get there? Does it belong to your client? These questions may be key to your defense. This session addresses those and similar issues that arise in cases involving computers.

In today's times, indictments alleging conspiracy and RICO (and conspiracy to commit RICO) have become the darlings of the United States Attorney's Office. Massive "takedowns" of local street gangs (and some not so local) are occurring across the country and will likely visit most panel lawyers. This panel will focus on issues that arise in these cases and suggest approaches to defending the alleged gang member client in conspiracy and RICO cases. A gang is a gang; but is a gang a RICO enterprise? Maybe not.

Paul Kish, Esq., Kish and Lietz, P.C., Atlanta, GA
 There have been a variety of amendments to the federal Victim Witness Protection Act, the most recent occurring in 2005. These amendments have greatly increased victim's rights in the federal sentencing process. For too long, defense attorneys only thought about how to work with victims in death penalty cases or prosecutions involving violent acts. However, the recent VWPA amendments mean that more and more victims will show up in court to talk during the sentencing of our clients in cases where no violence is involved. More and more prosecutions for economic crimes are defended by appointed counsel, with the defendant having long lost his or her assets prior to indictment. Appointed counsel need to: 1) be aware of these changes to the VWPA which give greater voice to victims in such cases, 2) must recognize how a "live" victim in court at the sentencing hearing can completely change the dynamic of the sentencing process, and 3) should be prepared to work on some of the strategies learned in the death penalty context for trying to communicate with and at least neutralize the impact of victims at the sentencing hearing.
